

“Nothing is as contagious as enthusiasm” this was the mantra on which the students of IMIS embarked upon to face the nuances of managing business as CEOs. The students had hands on experience to test their business acumen by participating in Capstone – “Hall of Fame” business simulation challenge. About 756 teams from the top B-schools worldwide participated in the ten day contest held online. One of our teams could find a place in the top 100 list, surpassing some of the teams from IIMs as well. It’s just the beginning of setting benchmark and the quest for excellence continues for the students of IMIS. The objectives put forth for Capstone Business Simulation:-

- Demonstrate effectiveness of multi-discipline teams working together.
- Use strategic thinking to an advantage.
- Test the students' business acumen.
- Understand overall interaction and impact of various parts of a business on one another.
